Editorial Visit.
Rev. J. I. BENNETT, the able editor of the Associate Reformed Presbyterian, published at Due West, honored our office with a call last week. We regretted that we were not in to see him. He is also President of the Due West Female College, which is in a flourishing condition.

Cool Weather.
The weather during the closing days of last week, and the beginning of the present, was remarkably cool in this section, but quite refreshing. Crops are generally doing well. In some neighborhoods, however, want of rain is beginning to injure the corn.

Fine Peaches.
We have received at our office a basket of ripe and superior peaches, from the farm of Col. E. S. LIVING, who has for many years past, taken much pride in the cultivation and improvement of all kinds of fruits. Col. E., not only pays attention to the raising of stock and introduction of grasses, but lends a portion of his attention to the growing of those little luxuries which go to make home attractive and happy.

The basket of peaches sent us was a large one, and supplied all heartily, for which he will please accept our sincere thanks.

The Late Riot in New York.
The riot and its incidents are largely discussed still in New York. The Herald thinks it will have a great political influence, and damage the Democrats by arraying all the Protestants in opposition against them. We do not think the D. in ocrats of the North and West quite such fools as to forsake their party and principles on account of the behavior of the New York Mayor in wishing to avoid a riot by prohibiting the Orange procession. Do the Republicans forsake their party for the mistakes or high crimes of some local leader? But it seems that the leaders of opinion in the North, take it for granted, that the people of all races are equals, sure enough, equally fools and incapable of discriminating, and ready to be cheated by any political trick. The attempt to injure the whole South by a speech of JER-EMIAH DAVIS, which no man here regarded as an instance of their faith.

Coroner's Inquests.
An Inquest was held by Trial Justice JESSE K. STONE, Esquire, over the body of Mrs. SARAH COKER, of Oak Lawn Township, in this county, on the 25th day of June last, deceased was found dead in her bed on the morning of that day. The verdict of jury was "death by Apoplexy." J. L. JENKINS, Foreman.

On the 29th of June, J. K. STONE, Esquire, acting Coroner, held an Inquest over the body of CHRISTOPHER M. GREEN, in Austin Township. Deceased was found dead where he had been ploughing in his field the evening before the Inquest. Verdict—"death from congestion of the stomach. N. J.
S. AUSTIN Foreman.

In both these cases the verdicts were founded upon examination and testimony of intelligent medical gentlemen.— There were no suspicious circumstances appearing in either case.

The Late Rev. Wm. B. Johnson, D. D.
We extract from the Anderson Intelligencer, the very interesting statement below, as to the proposed publication of Reminiscences of Dr. Jounson, written by himself, together with the funeral discourse of Dr. J. C. Furman, preached at his death in Greenville, in October 1862. We have read the manuscript years ago, and can bear witness of their great interest and value.
Dr. Johnson died in his 81st year. His reminiscences go back to his childhood.
He was a little boy when Gen. WASH-INGTON visited South Carolina, and relates incidentally some circumstances attending a private entertainment of the father of his country, at which he was present.

We wish the editor of the Working Christian success in his undertaking.— We would be pleased to receive subscriptions for the book, and to forward them, as we doubt not other friends in Greenville and elsewhere would cheerfully do.

"REMINISCENCES OF DR. JOHNSON." The editor of the Working Christian has examined the manuscript, containing "Dr. W. B. Johnson's Reminiscences," and finds that they are very interesting. These reminiscences were written by Dr. Johnson a few years before his death, and are said to contain a good autobiography of this working and useful man. His comments on the men, and times, and places of his life and labors, are replete with interest. Bro. Gaines proposes to publish these reminiscences, together with the funeral discourse of Dr. J. C.
Furman on the occasion of Dr. Johnson's death, and other sketches of this great and good man, in neat book form.

He thinks the book will contain about 150 pages, and that it can be sold for $1. When the names of three hundred persons are pledged for as many copies, the work will be put in print without delay.

In this community, where Dr. Johnson lived and labored for so many years, and where his honored remains are now reposing, we think there will be no difficulty in securing a large list of subscribers to the proposed work.— Let active exertions be made at once, so that at least this memorial of his services and usefulness may be assured.
The death of Dr. Johnson occurred during the war, and it was the intention of the Baptist denomination to erect a monument to his memory. As this intention has never been carried out, and probably will not be for years to come, we think it the duty of all desiring to perpetuate the recollection of this eminent and devoted servant of God to encourage Bro. Gaines in this voluntary undertaking, by forwarding orders at once for copies of this work.
We will take pleasure in receiving the names of persons who are willing to subscribe, and we trust that others will more actively canvass the subject both in and out of the denomination.

FOR THE GREENVILLE ENTERPRISE.

GREENVILLE COUNTY, July 15, 1871.
WHEREAS, We, the undersigned citizens of Greenville County, appreciating the oppressed and impoverished condition of our State, arising from ex parte and unjust legislation—not the least of which is the class legislation, establishing what is called the "New Code of Procedure at Law," and the outrageous, extortionate and intolerable fees of costs allowed lawyers and court officers under and by this act. The whole thing being engrafted upon our State books by a man—the off-spring of reconstruction iniquity and one of the greatest monstrosities of "Carpet-Baggers," yet spawned upon our State. That while we are fully cognizant of the fact, that there has been a great deal of dishonesty and extravagant waste of the public treasury on the part of many of our officials, and that the taxes are burdensome and hard to be borne, yet we are candidly of the opinion that much of the discontent and demoralization of society arises as much from the practical bearings of this odious code as any thing else, and we would further submit that we do not regard it either patriotic or right in any sense of the word for attorneys to demand or accept these exorbitant bills of cost, and cannot conceive how their consciences can be soothed and at ease, when it is so palpable and apparent to any and every one, that their fees are so far disproportionate to services rendered.

The courts have upon broad and high grounds of equity, justice and expediency, and in view of the fact of the greater bulk of the property of the Southern people being swept away, held very wisely and patriotically, that old debts should not be paid in full; but what relief is it to the masses to be relieved of portions of their indebtedness, when the costs of obtaining this relief is often twice, or even more than three fold as much as the amount of this reduction, and into whose pockets this goes, the record showeth. And we further submit, that it is the interest and duty of the people to take care of themselves, and keep out of the courts, and for the adjustment of claims and disputes to establish a board or boards of arbitration, and to the end that a full expression of public opinion may be elicited, we request a public meeting of the citizens of the county be held on this subject on Saturday in August, at the Court House, to develop and mature some plan for the establishment of this board or boards.

For the Greenville Enterprise.
JACKSON, TENN., July 8th, 1871.
Messrs. Editors: During a stay of two days at Brownsville, I was convinced that it is a good point for trade. There are four very productive counties which make this their market. They grow very successfully corn, wheat, oats, grasses and cotton.
The latter is the principal crop. Since last September, 21,000 bales have been marketed in Brownsville. After such disbursements of money as the above sales create, (and much of it going into the hands of the negroes,) there must be a large trade for the merchants.

This town has been built up since the war, and is the result of our changed system of labor, as prior to emancipation all the planters had their factors in Memphis, where they shipped their cotton and ordered supplies for their families and slaves.
There are, however, some diverting railroads in contemplation which may, when built, effect the permanent business of Brownsville.

A few hours ride carried me to Jackson.
This is an attractive city. I was decidedly impressed in favor of Jackson on first sight. The beautifully shaded lawns, and handsome houses, surrounded with delicious flowers and evergreens, were evidences to me of taste and refinement—strikingly like our own loved Greenville. After some days stay here, I am satisfied that energy and talent will be well rewarded, either in Jackson or the surrounding country.

This is about the centre of West Tennessee, is on the Mobile and Ohio Railroad, and is the terminus of the Mississippi Central.
There are other companies in course of organization. The city proper is 6,000 inhabitants, and a suburban population of about 20,000 more; has one Male (a State) College and 3 Female Institutions of learning; has nine or ten Churches; and, as far as I am able to decide, a cultivated society. Jackson is of steady growth; has doubled its population since the war. The intelligent and impartial men speak very hopefully of the future of Jackson.

For persons going West to farm, and in search of a rich and highly productive soil, where society is already well established, with a climate not very unlike the upper South Carolina, I think they will find West Tennessee to meet their wishes. For mechanics and business men, there is at least a fair chance of making a comfortable support.

The Episcopal Convocation.

The exercises and services of this body were opened on last Wednesday, at 11 o'clock, by an Introductory Sermon by the Rev. Ellison Capers, Rector of Christ Church, Greenville. Text, "And ye fathers provoke not your children to wrath; but bring them up in the nurture and admonition of the Lord"—VI, 4, Ephesians.
The Convocation assembled at 5 o'clock, of the same day, in the Church, to attend to the business of the meeting. This Convocation embraces within its territorial limits the counties of Abbeville, Anderson, Oconee, Pickens, Greenville, Spartanburg, Lancaster, Newberry, Union, York and Chester, and is composed of all clergymen canonically resident in these counties, and of laymen elected by each Parish to represent it in the Convocation. This Convocation is called the Convocation of Greenville, and meets three times in each year—in April, July and October—and at different points, successively. The clerical delegates present at the last meeting were the Revs. J. D. Mc-Cullough, W. P. Daboe, Roberts P. Johnson, O. T. Porcher and Edmond R. Miles.— The Lay Delegates were, Messrs. Parker Shand, Andrews, Waller, Rutledge, Stokes and Arthur. After a very harmonious session, the Convocation adjourned, on Friday evening, having effected much good for the Church, and after having accomplished the work and fulfilled the purposes of its organization.

These Convocations are subordinate, representative and legislative bodies to the Convention of the Diocese of South Carolina, there being five of them in the Diocese but they are of the highest importance to the welfare of the Church, and one producing most happy results with the clergy and laity, both priest and people. The system is admirably adapted to supply the spiritual wants of the people of the Episcopal Church, and there is no doubt but what these convocations will become permanent institutions in the Diocese of South Carolina. A President is elected annually, and also a Secretary and Treasurer, but when the Bishop is present he presides. The work of the Convocation is missionary in its character, but it is confined to the limits of the Convocation, and is intended by its founders as a means to produce the general and highest development of the Christian character within its territorial limits. In accordance with this view, at these meetings of the Convocations, Divine service is frequently held, and sermons are delivered in the Church, and at the business meeting discussions entered into by clergy and laity on subjects of theological and practical importance. Before the assembling of the Convocation, the subject which is to engage particularly the Convocation is indicated by the president, and a member of the body appointed to preach a sermon and another to read an essay on that particular subject. After being preached upon, and examined by the essayist, it goes to the Convocation for more general discussion.— It is evident, therefore, that there exists every facility of attaining the truth, which we, as a religious people, desire to possess.
The subject for discussion during the late session, was "Christian Education." The Rector of Christ Church, Greenville, opened the exercises, as has been above stated, with a most impressive and learned and eloquent discourse, on the importance of the early religious education of the young.— The sermon was convincing and unanswerable, both as to doctrine and practice.— This sermon was then followed by an essay upon the general education of the young, by that pure Christian and gifted divine, Rev. Edward R. Miles. Our space will not allow us to speak of this production as we desire, but suffice it to say that, according to our judgment, it was the most complete essay we have ever had the good fortune to listen to. It was able, erudite, comprehensive and exhaustive of the subject. We hope to see the essay published. The next sermon was by Rev.
Mr. O. T. Porcher, the Rector of the church at Willington, and the able instructor of the young at that celebrated school located near Willington. He preached to the children assembly, and delivered a most admirable and interesting talk to them, which they all understood, and which was also edifying to those of mature years. There were sermons delivered also by the other members of the clergy, Rev. Dr. McCullough, Rev. Mr. Daboe and Rev. Mr. Johnson, during the Convocation, and all having more or less connection with the subject under discussion, but not so immediately bearing upon it as those mentioned. There was, however, a unity in design and thought running through the whole Convocation, work, and which delighted and pleased the people. And all will say that the Convocation was not held in vain, but that much good was done. May the spirit of God ever control the deliberations of the Greenville Convocation, and may it always remain the promoter of the cause of Christ Jesus, in the prayer of a BELIEVER.

DARING ATTEMPT TO ROB THE MAIL.—Society seems to be getting badly demoralized in the State of South Carolina, and nearly every day we have a fresh proof of the effects of that higher civilization which has been the fruit of triumphant Radicalism.— One of the latest items from across the river is a daring attempt to murder a mail rider and rob the Government mail. Dr. D. B.
Thompson, of this city, has a contract for carrying the mail between Augusta and Calhoun's Mills, in South Carolina, a good many miles distant. On Wednesday morning the mail-rider, a young man named Rich, left Calhoun's Mills, on one of his regular trips.
About one o'clock in the afternoon he reached Rocky Pond, twenty miles from here. While riding up a hill in a part of the road remote from any house, two men sprung from the bushes and commanded him to halt, one of them at the same time firing at him with a pistol. The ball fortunately missed its aim, and before they could shoot again Mr. Rich drew his pistol and fired at them several times. Astonished at meeting with such a warm reception where they expected to find an easy conquest and a rich booty, the cowardly highwaymen betook themselves to flight, and ran into the woods. Mr. Rich then continued his journey unmolested, and reached the city in safety.— One of the party who attacked him was a white man, the other was a negro. It was evident that their intention was to murder the mail-rider, and then carry the mail into the woods and rifle the pouches at their leisure.—Augusta Chronicle & Sentinel.

EVER since the fall of the Commune of Paris the French police have been sedulously hunting Felix Pyat, the editor of the Vengeur, and one of the principal members of that body. So far Pyat has, however, maintained his hiding-place in Paris undiscovered.— Suspicion has for some time attached to a certain house in the Rue de Martyrs as being Pyat's place of refuge, and it has often been visited by the police in the hope of catching him.
In the kitchen of this house is a cistern or well, the covering of which the police have always removed to peer into the water, but, disappointed in their search, they have as often turned away.
It is now declared in a Paris journal that this cistern was in reality Pyat's hiding-place, to which he habitually resorted when pursued. The upper part of this cistern, which is of large size, contained water, as also did the lower part, in such a manner that the water flowed on turning the spigot.— But in the centre of the cistern was a vacant space large enough to admit a man. Here was the refuge of the hunted man.

WEATHER AND CROPS.—The hot term of the season seems to have ended on Tuesday evening, as the atmosphere became quite cool from the Southern winds, and heavy rain clouds that reached half way around the horizon on the Southern side of town, but no rain came to the Court House.

On Wednesday, a cool breeze was felt all day from the same quarter, and still no rain, and up to the hour of going to press, the drouth continues. Corn is severely injured in the neighborhood of this place, but we are glad to know that there will be an abundant made in the County, as the crops made on Lynche's Creek, to say nothing of the Timmonsville neighborhood and several other localities, will supply all deficiencies .—Darlington Southerner.

We see by the Columbia Phoenix, that Henry Dobbins, an industrious colored man, is making for sale excellent pickles, which he thinks he can furnish at a less price than they can be obtained from the North.

Such enterprise is worthy not only of commendation, but of emulation.— There are many ways of this kind by which a good living can be made; requiring but little capital, with good receipts, and a stock of energy, any one would stand a fair chance of success.

Preserves and pickles find a ready sale; and, doubtless, there are many among us who would prefer to patronize the home-made than to purchase that from abroad.

GOODNESS of heart is man's best blest acquisition. It is that ray of the ever sores, scald head, ring worm, warts, the itch, tumors, cancers in the womb, and all weakening and painful diseases, and all weakening, loss of sperm and all wastes of the life principle, are within the curative range of this wonder of modern chemistry and a few days' use will prove to any person using it for either of these forms of disease its potent power to cure them.

If the patient, daily becoming relieved by the water and decomposition that is continually progressing, succeeds in arresting these wastes, and repairs the sum-with new material made from healthy blood—and this the Sarsaparillian will and do a secure—a cure is certain; for when once this remedy commences its work of purification, and succeeds in diminishing the loss of wastes, its repairs will be rapid, and every day the patient will feel himself getting better and stronger, the food digesting better, appetite improving, and flesh and weight increasing.

Not only does the Sarsaparillian Resolvent excel all known remedial agents in the cure of Chronic, Scrofulous, Constitutional, and Skin diseases; but it is the only possible cure for Kidney and Bladder complaints, Urinary and Worm diseases, Greasy, Diabetic, Dropsy, Stomachic, Water-retention of Urine, Bright's Disease, Albuminuria, and in all cases where there are brick dust deposits, or the water is cloudy, mixed with substances like the white of an egg, threads like white silk, or where is a morbid, dark, bilious, permeable, and white bone dust deposit, and when there is a pricking, burning sensation when passing water, and pain in the Small of the Back and along the Loins.
